The Marconi Society and Arizona State University (ASU) are proud to open enrollment for the next cohort of our Digital Inclusion Leadership Certificate!

The program starts on January 29, 2024

Register for the full certificate (bundle of 5 courses/modules over 12 weeks at a discount) or for individual modules (2-4 weeks each).

What is the Digital Inclusion Leadership Certificate?
This 12-week certificate provides a critical foundation in technology, policy and digital equity for those who are building digitally inclusive communities. The course includes concurrent remote instruction, small group discussions and insights from leaders in the field.

Who should participate?
This highly interactive certificate is designed for professionals who are bringing the opportunities of broadband and the Internet to everyone.

This includes those who are creating plans and managing infrastructure and digital equity programs under the federal government’s Broadband Equity, Access, and Deployment (BEAD) Program, the Digital Equity Act and other federal and state funds.

Cohorts will include professionals from states, local governments, Tribes, nonprofits, and other organizations engaged in these initiatives.

For more information, email lead instructor Karen Mossberger Karen.Mossberger@asu.edu

Register now: careercatalyst.asu.edu/programs/digital-inclusion-leadership-certificate/